

Established by the notary act of the 3rd of May 1984 as Società Cooperativa a responsabilità limitata named "COOPERATIVE Archeotur Ltd.

It was founded on the initiative of ten young unemployed graduates from Sant'Antioco, who had attended a training course organized by ENAP, aimed to create tour operators with archaeological training and skills, with the intention of giving priority to full and stable employment for its members. The Cooperative Archeotur begins to address the archaeological area of the town of Sant'Antioco designing and submitting projects for its enhancement.